

As part of its 5-year strategic plan, the INS Education Committee began the Video Archive as a means of providing an oral history of the Society and the profession. The INS Video Archives includes 26 interviews with some of the most influential leaders in the field, providing a rich oral multinational history of the profession. We anticipate the Archive will continue to grow and will begin to add new luminaries such as Dr. Brenda Milner featured in the current INS Newsletter.

For Members: INS Members can now enjoy free access to all 26 current videos on-demand by simply logging into their account and visiting either the Membership or Education tab for a link to the Archive.

For Non-Members: Non-Members can also view pre-selected videos by logging in as “Visitor” under the Education tab. The INS office will post two new videos from the Archive each month, and we invite non-members to check back regularly to see what videos are being offered and what other benefits are available to INS Members.

For Educators: The INS Video Archive is intended as both an INS “member benefit” and as an educational resource for educators. Educators who wish access to specific videos in the Archive can contact the INS office (email: ins@the-ins.org or phone 801.487.0475) to request time-limited free access to the desired videos.

Coming: We have also been collecting videos of a number of Keynote Addresses presented at our recent meetings. Keep an eye out in 2019 for more information on how to access these on the INS website.
